

Davidson County Election Commission Meeting on 5/3/2016

The Davidson County Election Commission (DCEC) held a series of open meetings during the week of May 1 for the purpose of interviewing the seven finalists for the open Administrator position. The Commission allotted an hour for each candidate. All Commissioners participated in the interview process, engaging the applicants in discussions of their relevant experience in management, the government budget process, training, media and knowledge of applicable laws such as the open records and open meetings laws. The DCEC interviewed Jack Roberts and Robert McDonough on May 2, John Bearden, former CEO of U.S. Hospitality, and Mike Schulz, former aid to Sen. Lamar Alexander, on May 3 and intended to interview the remaining candidates on May 7, after which they would determine whether to conduct a second round of interviews. Other finalists include former Metro council members Karen Bennett and Charlie Tygard.
